

Media Information

15th May 2008

STANTON BONNA CONCRETE NOW 100% OWNED BY CONSOLIS

The Consolis Group, which currently owns 80% of local precast concrete and GRP products manufacturer Stanton Bonna, is buying the remaining 20% stake owned by Saint-Gobain Pipelines.

Stanton Bonna states that being wholly owned by Consolis, Europe's leading precast concrete group, will have a positive impact on the future of the Company.

Barry Cooper, Chief Executive for Stanton Bonna, commented "The strengthened involvement of the Consolis group will help with our development plans, although for our customers, employees and suppliers it is very much business as usual. We see this as a logical move in the light of recent changes at Saint-Gobain Pipelines and look forward to a successful future within a growing Consolis group."

ENDS

For more information, please contact:

Murray Howitt
Stanton Bonna
0115 944 1448
m.howitt@stanton-bonna.co.uk